$200 "COST-OF-LIVING" INCREASE TO
ALL EMPLOYEES OF THE BOARD*Teachers Request Boost, So Board Gives It To All Employees — Football Coach Granted Permission To Attend Football Clinic — Miss Edna Pennypacker to Aid in Evaluating Schools in Stroudsburg.

A $200 "cost-of-living" salary increase was granted to all employees of the Delhaas Joint School District, last evening, at the joint board meeting held in the Delhaas Junior High School on Rogers Road. Norman Roberts, president of the joint board, presided.

Walter D. Miller, regional superintendent, told the board that the teachers had requested a "cost-of-living" increase in salary. Mr. Miller told the board that many school districts were granting "cost-of-living" increases and that he felt that not only the teachers should be granted an increase, but that all employees should receive such if the board could see its way clear to grant such increases. He read a list of districts which had granted increases and told the board what can be expected from the state.

The board discussed the subject and all agreed that the cost of living was increasing and had been doing so for the last six months, and that something should be done for the employees to meet this higher cost of living. A motion was made and unanimously passed granting a $200 a year increase retroactive to January 1st, 1951, in addition to the State mandate increment raise, to all employees of the Delhaas school district.

Mrs. Elizabeth (King) Gaskill was granted a leave of absence. Mr. Miller reported that Miss Edna M. Pennypacker had been appointed to the committee for evaluation of high schools at Stroudsburg, and asked the board to grant her permission to attend the three-day meeting. The request was granted.

John Antoni, football coach, was given permission to attend the fourth annual football clinic to be held February 19th to the 22nd at Coatesville. Mr. Miller was authorized to attend the American Association of Schools Administrators meeting to be held in Atlantic City, N. J.

THE PRESS AND PRESSURE

The New York Times is one of the really great newspapers of this period. Its factual news coverage around the globe is almost unparalleled. It has hewed to the line of printing all the news that's fit to print — even when, as has sometimes happened, the facts it presented strongly conflicted with editorial positions it had taken.

For years, it has been the principal documentary newspaper — the one in which the seeker after truth and primary sources could find the text of almost everything important — from outstanding speeches to the dry-as-dust constitutions laid by our State Department on the laps of occupied Germany and Japan.

In two recent Presidential elections, by the mere editorial expression of a preference, it profoundly affected the outcome — and did so with no need for suppression or distortion of the news.

Under these circumstances, it is most deplorable to find the manager of this illustrious newspaper, Gen. Julius Ochs Adler, sucked into membership of a slimy political organization which calls itself the "Committee on the Present Danger" and which is most conspicuously a device intended to shut off debate on American foreign policy, thereby keeping the American people in the dark on the present, past and future facts of life in their national administration.

The membership of the committee alone is almost enough to discount it in the mind of any serious seeker for evidence on which to judge whether statesmanship or political greed is the driving influence behind the factions now in command of this nation.

Gen. Adler is the sole newspaper publisher caught in this net. The others divide into two groups — one is the "fall guys," consisting of those who are in no position to know anything about the foreign policy and whether it is

Former All-American Football Player Speaks Here

Paul Riblett, former All American football player, and presently end coach at the University of Pennsylvania, told Rotarians at the Elks' Home yesterday afternoon that college football, as well as any other type of competitive sport, is good for this country.

"College football is good business, even though it is a very controversial subject, and more truths are said about this game than any other," Riblett said.

"It teaches our boys to work under pressure and to come out smiling and ready to go, even in the face of an immediate defeat."

Riblett, who explained how the college teams secure their player football material from high schools, said the top 50 teams in the country are about on a par over the seasons. Following his remarks the speaker answered questions for the members.

Guests were present for the meeting from Beach Haven, Jenkintown and Doylestown, with president Raymond Sobatzki in charge.

MORRISVILLE, Jan. 12 — A section of the Bucks County Contributionship building, 20 North Pennsylvania avenue, has been selected as Morrisville's Civil Defense Council's headquarters. In the basement there enrollment will begin in a few days of about 300 or 400 workers.

Director David E. West this week told members of Morrisville Council what they will be expected to accomplish toward immediate organization in preparation to the preliminary phase of their various sections.

In organizing civil defense headquarters, Colonel Irving E. A secretary also is needed on a part-time basis. These volunteers will be part of the headquarters staff, under direction of Colonel Pugh and Caleb B. Cope, chief of personnel.

In preparation for the enlistment of civil defense volunteers, the superintendent of Morrisville schools, Mahonah R. Reiter, who is education welfare chairman, announces that a motion picture, "Survival Under Atomic Attack," will be shown in the high school auditorium on Monday at 8 p. m., limited to adults.

Members of the council and the steering committee will attend and answer any questions regarding various problems in addition to giving a brief resume of their duties.

YOUNG WEST BRISTOL MAN FATALLY HURT BY AUTO NEAR SPOT WHERE AGED
MAN WAS KILLED ABOUT 3 WEEKS AGO*Elmer Alfred Mills, 21, Single, Dies of Compound Fracture of Skull — En Route Home After Attending Movies in Bristol — Driver of Car is Robert Townsend, of Bristol.

A young man of West Bristol was fatally injured last evening by an automobile on the Newport road, Bristol township, at almost the same spot where an aged man was fatally hurt about three weeks ago.

The victim, Elmer Alfred Mills, 21, Second and Leedom aves., West Bristol, was pronounced dead upon being admitted to the Nazareth hospital, Philadelphia.

The driver of the car, according to Bristol Township Police Chief, Joseph Seader, was Robert Townsend, 21, 317 Wilson street, Bristol.

The accident occurred on the Newport road, one-half square from Second and Green streets, near the spot where George J. Johnston, 84, was fatally injured on December 20th.

Seader says that Townsend, a student, was driving along the Newport Road and says that he saw an object on the road, but before he could stop his car he struck the object.

Stanley Krzaczkuk, Maple ave., Maple Shade, enroute to his employment at Rohm and Haas plant, was approaching in the opposite direction, saw a man sitting on the road and stopped. He "blinked his lights" Seader says Krzaczkuk told him, as the Townsend car approached.

Mills died of a compound fracture of the skull as the result of being thrown beneath the Townsend car.

Mills, according to his parents, was subject to epileptic attacks but had not suffered one recently. He was enroute home from the "movies" in Bristol when the accident occurred. He was single and at present unemployed, having worked as a farm hand until a few days ago.

Mills is the son of Elmer and Mae Mills, and in addition to his parents is survived by one sister, Mrs. Oliver Kubat, North Fourth street, Philadelphia.

The injured man was taken to the Nazareth hospital in the ambulance of the Bucks County Rescue Squad.

George Sutong, president, presided, and presented the board's solicitor, Lawrence Monroe. All members of the board were present. It was reported that Frank Hibbs, treasurer, of the board of supervisors, had turned over the accounts of the district with the following balances: General fund, $19,964.84; state-aid, $4.95; fire account, $28.38; water account, $7,987.47.

It was recommended by James E. Harris, safety chairman, that Bentley Chapin be made a police officer on a six-months' probationary period. The recommendation was approved. Harris also called attention to the fact that another police officer is being considered but that if a third officer is added it will be necessary to form a civil service board. This, apparently for the time being, has been postponed.

The necessity for a fire code was called to the attention of the board by Harris, and this will be taken up for consideration at a later date.

The appointment of Harry Barth as plumbing clerk was approved.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan
(Distributed by International News Service)

The Administration is going to try to balance the budget in 1952. . . . This promises to be a sensational act and we are all in it.

New sources of revenue are still being sought and a number of new tax programs have been suggested. . . . Some feel that a stiff tax on tax programs would help.

And these deficits we aren't going to be able to pass along to our children. . . . They'll all be in the Army and the pay is low.

But our new policy is "pay as you go" and, if you don't go, it's full fare anyway.

Some time it would be nice to know where we're going as long as we're paying for the ride, but there hasn't been a very clear exposition of what is the goal.

No matter how much we come up with there will be brilliant plans for spending more.

Add forgotten phrases: "That ought to carry us through for some time."

THE WAR

By Howard Handelman
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, Jan. 12 — (INS) — A 20,000-man Red column thrust vanguards more than 70 miles inside South Korea around the U. S. Second Division's east flank today in a fresh attempt to envelop United Nations forces.

Along the entire front the Chinese and North Korean invaders built up additional strength under incessant attack by UN planes credited with killing or wounding nearly 2,500 Red soldiers in the 24 hours up to noon Friday.

These casualty figures were issued by U. S. Fifth Air Force headquarters which said its airmen mowed down 900 Communist troops Friday morning.

Some 400 of these were killed or wounded in the Suwon area below Seoul where the Reds were massing huge forces for an imminently expected new offensive against the main U. S. Eighth Army forces in the west sector.

A tense lull, broken only by patrol clashes, hovered over most of the front up until midday Friday.

However, two North Korean divisions totalling up to 20,000 troops swung wide around the east wing of the American Second Infantry Division and its associated French and Dutch troops in the center of the peninsula.

This move was an apparent effort

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

The United Nations cease-fire committee yesterday presented a five-point, step-by-step program to end the fighting in Korea and pave the way for peace in Asia. Many nations, including the United States, endorsed the plan, but the Soviet Union called it deliberately foggy and somewhat of an ultimatum. The program calls for four-power talks, with Peiping represented, on Formosa and other Far Eastern questions. This country's support, which surprised some delegations, was said to be in line with previously declared policy.

Prime Ministers of the British Commonwealth nations, who had played a large part in formulating the plan, unanimously favored the four-power talks. Success of the project was said to rest entirely on Peiping's attitude.

John Foster Dulles, with the rank of Ambassador, will head a mission to Tokyo for preliminary talks on a Japanese peace treaty.

American troops will be sent anywhere they are needed without prior consent of Congress, President Truman declared. He said he would consult Congressional committees before dispatching fighting forces but would not ask permission because he did not need it. In the Senate, two Republicans joined Democrats in answering attacks by former President Hoover and Senator Taft on the Administration's foreign and defense policies.

A bill tying all military and economic foreign aid into a "single package" is being prepared for early introduction. More than 90% of what may reach $10,000,000,000 would be to help Western Europe rearm.

The Atomic Energy Commission will establish a 5,000 square-mile reservation in Nevada to test atomic weapons.

A manpower mobilization policy to balance military and industrial demands will soon be declared by the President, Mrs. Rosenberg, Assistant Secretary of Defense, told a Senate subcommittee.

Washington moved to lift curbs on new automobile prices and real estate credit and added several items to the anti-hoarding list. The women's dress industry asked for "price controls as soon as possible" in the interest of stabilized living costs and wages. Organized labor said effective anti-inflation controls should precede any attempt to stabilize pay.

"In an emergency like the present, first things come first, and our defense programs must have top

TWO ELEMENTARY GRADE TEACHERS ENGAGED
BY BRISTOL TOWNSHIP SCHOOL BOARD;
EMPLOYEES GIVEN $200 BOOST IN WAGES

Two elementary grade teachers were hired and a $200 "cost-of-living" increase in salary was granted to all employees of the Bristol Township School District at the special meeting of the Bristol Township School Board held last evening in the Delhaas Junior High School on Rogers Road. John Allman, president of the board, presided.

The board discussed the problem of a "cost-of-living" increase for all employees of the school district and decided to grant a $200 a year increase retroactive to January 1st to all employees. This increase will be in addition to the State mandate increment increase for all teachers.

William D. Knight, chairman of the transportation committee, reported that a new bus is needed and that buses are getting very difficult to buy. In his investigation there are very few 60-passenger buses that can be bought. One company has one for sale at the present time, and there are a few others.

One dealer said from all information that he had there are no bus chassis available and he had no idea when any would be available.

The board discussed this problem and instructed the secretary, Clarence H. Young, to advertise for a 60-passenger Dodge school bus. The specifications may be obtained at the office of Walter D. Miller at the Delhaas Junior High School.

Miss Jacqueline Andrews and Wesley Wielgolasky were hired by the board as elementary school teachers. Miss Andrews will teach the third grade at Edgely, and Mr. Wielgolasky will teach the fourth grade at Maple Shade.

TAXED FOR WASTE

Taxes today take 28 cents of every earned dollar. Of this the federal government takes 21 cents and state and local governments take seven cents. Congress now is devising ways and means of taking still more of the dollar in taxes. States are taking twice as much in taxes as they did 10 years ago.

The average taxpayer isn't aware of all this tax take. Some money is taken out of his pay check. He realizes that he pays property taxes. Occasionally clerks in the stores and at the ticket windows inform him certain excise taxes are added to what he buys.

But the plants that produce consumer goods are taxed to the hilt. They pass these taxes along to the consumer in the form of higher prices. Much of the 28 per cent outgo of the citizen's dollar is in the form of these hidden dollars.

A quarter century ago the federal government was taking less money from the citizen than the other governments. But today the federal government takes 75 per cent of all taxes paid, and the percentage soon will go higher.

No effort is being made by the administration to reduce non-essential government spending. When Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia pointed out how many billions could be saved, President Truman cracked, "I don't think Harry Byrd knows much about the budget." That wasn't funny. Senator Byrd probably knows more about the budget than any other Senator. But the President's snide remark shows that the White House will not even tolerate a suggestion that waste in government spending should be eliminated.

TRADE WITH REDS

If the United States does ask belatedly—for the imposition of economic sanctions against Communist China, the United Nations ought to approve it with the same alacrity that it approved the sending of United States forces to Korea.

Great Britain, which has recognized the Chinese communist government and is doing a land office business with the Chinese reds through Hong Kong, will oppose such a move. But it is time that Washington stopped letting the British socialist government call the signals.

General MacArthur's headquarters announces that Red China has more than a million men under arms in and about Korea, and by the end of next year will be able to put 12,000,000 men in the field. None of the other members of the United Nations are sending any aid. To win this war, therefore, the United States must rely on the continued superiority of American equipment, including planes, and on a boycott to keep material from reaching the enemy.

The communists do not need manpower. Nor do they care what happens to it in battle. But they cannot fight without tanks, planes, guns and ammunition.

TO THE LEATHERNECKS
"From the Halls of Montezuma
To the crimson-stained Hamhung,
Through the frozen, snowpacked mountains"

That's the new way it is sung:
Now a new and greater glory
Rises o'er an epic scene
As the heart leaps to the statement,
"Look! That youngster's a Marine!"

The Golgotha of stark winter
Death along an icy way
Thorns and cross at every turning
Through the bitter night and day;
Agony beyond all knowing

Marked by this one word aglow:
"COURAGE" boldly, bravely written
In red letters on the snow.
Of no brief and gallant hour
This word on white blanket speaks,

But of guts and faith and fiber
Through two freezing, howling weeks
In sub-zero and in blizzards,
And from torture never free
Hark! I hear the hoarse, "We made it!"

As they stumble to the sea!
This the everlasting promise
Kept along each bloody yard:
"No one leaves behind the wounded
Cuz there ain't no fight THAT hard!"

What a vivid, gallant epic
Down each bleak Korean gorge
In the spirit and the measure
Long enshrined at Valley Forge!
Take your hat off, Mister Homefront!

Stand in silence with bowed head!
For you'll never know the valor
Of these heroes and their dead;
Say a prayer for consecration
Of your spirit through and through
Should this test the kids met gately

Come in some degree to you!

AKRON, O. (INS)—Schoolboys are getting longer range than ever before from rubber-propelled missiles. According to R. W. Nickels, of the B. F. Goodrich Company, today's elastic rubber bands have more snap to the inch. He said the company expects to make about 2,500,000,000 bands in 1951.

"WASHINGTON REPORT"

By FULTON LEWIS, JR.
(Copyright, 1950
King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12—Mr. J. Howard McGrath, the Attorney General, earned his current position in the Truman-Pendergast Cabinet by his apprenticeship in the greasy role of chief political planner, fixer, and Chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

For the blindfolded lady holding the scales in her outstretched hands the company is automatically suspect. I confess, however, to stronger emotions than mere suspicion after reviewing Mr. McGrath's administration and purported enforcement of the non-Communist affidavit provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act.

For more than two years his Department of Justice made not even a minor pass at anybody. The provisions might just as well have been written in invisible ink. Now, however, there are rumblings that he is calling for a Federal Grand Jury to hear evidence of an alleged violation.

But if you think McGrath is going after any of the known Communist labor leaders who lied when they signed non-Communist oaths under the Taft-Hartley Law, guess again.

McGrath's first case involves an obscure American Federation of Labor official in Washington, D. C., a Negro who recently confessed his Communist affiliations before the House Committee on Un-American Activities. He is Henry Thomas, president of Local 74, Building Laborers Union. He told the House Red hunters that the Washington, D. C., labor movement has in it an active, sabotage-trained Communist cell.

Under the Taft-Hartley Act labor officials must sign an oath that they are not Communists in order to take advantage of the benefits of the National Labor Relations Act, where union-management complaints are decided.

The CIO has recently kicked out ten unions that are Communist-led and controlled. Yet all of these union leaders signed the non-Communist oath. Some signed 18 months ago, and the FBI has files six inches thick on several of them who have been Communists since boyhood. McGrath, however, has ducked their cases.

In order to prod the Attorney General, the Un-American Activities Committee called a few of these Moscow lovers to Washington for a grilling. In each instance they decline to reply to questions on their Communist activities on the basis of self-incrimination.

The union leaders, Julius Emspack and James Matles, who run the Communist-bossed wing of the United Electrical Workers Union, have signed the Taft-Hartley oath.

But McGrath sits tight and ignores the House Committee hearings. That is, he did ignore them until the Negro labor leader, Thomas, spilled the beans about the Washington Reds. Thomas's case is similar to that of Whittaker Chambers, the confessed Red courier who shoved Alger Hiss into court. The Department of Justice, then under Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark, was all set to indict Chambers instead of Hiss, until two members of Congress, Richard Nixon and Karl Mundt, pulled the plug.

Thomas named names and cited cases of Communist activity in his union. Confronted and frightened, he consulted with his aged mother and his pastor before agreeing to testify before the House Committee. Both advised him to tell the truth, which he has done in great detail. He named nine Communists in Washington, all of whom clammed up when the Committee called on them to testify.

Now, with the President calling on the country almost daily to be alert to Communist activity, Thomas is getting his reward. He is headed for a grand jury indictment by the Attorney General. His labor union made a pass at kicking him out of office after he had testified. An appeal by a group of Congressmen, most of whom were members of the House Committee on Un-American activities, stopped this. But it took an appeal to the National A. F. of L. officers.

The FBI and the Immigration Service have talked to Thomas about the Communists he knows. Both plan to use him as a witness in Communist cases. But they won't if the Attorney General gets Thomas indicted. The quickest way to ruin a witness is have him in court under the shadow of a personal Grand Jury indictment. Maybe that is what McGrath wants. If it is, the House Committee ought to call him up for an explanation. Maybe he has one, but it isn't visible at this moment.

good or bad—but likewise in no position to say "no" to Administration spokesmen who sneak up on their blind sides.

For example, no fewer than twelve of the members are either presidents of colleges or universities, or otherwise high in position in such institutions. Now the fact is that when the Truman Administration undertook to put all the war veterans who cared to try it through college, it also started the open subsidy of the institutions of higher learning in this nation. They are working for Uncle Sam today, and don't you forget it when opinions are presented purporting to represent the "untrammeled thinking" of the nation's educators. If you have any doubts, read the stories in the press which show how one draft policy would drive all colleges to the wall, and an alternative would enrich and strengthen them during the coming years.

Also in the category of those who are listed for "window-dressing" are included various insurance company officials and other business men.

The other class well represented in the "Committee on the Present Danger" embraces some of the shrewdest operators who ever helped two New Deal Presidents out of tight holes. In addition to obscure persons who had important but little publicized jobs with the White House in recent years, there are also on the Committee such well-known figures in the New Deal Hierarchy as: Gen. William J. ("Wild Bill") Donovan of OSS fame; Robert P. Patterson, former Secretary of War; Robert E. Sherwood, poet and "ghost writer" for Mr. Truman (the poetic name of the Committee sounds a bit like his handiwork); Will L. Clayton, cotton baron of the world and former Under Secretary of State.

Surely Gen. Adler isn't so ingenuous as to think these smoothies are in this Committee just out of idealistic philanthropy. If he doesn't know his sharpshooters better than that, he has no business running a big-city newspaper.

For all the fine talk in the Committee's opening resolution about its being "without partisanship," and geared solely to the assignment of bolstering up Eisenhower in Europe, the body could much better be called by the name of "Committee for the Suppression of Debate."

For that's what it is—a fire-extinguisher committee aimed at putting out the fire which has been lighted under the administration, smoking out the secret deals, secret commitments, the errors and blunders and falsities, the tragedies and disasters.

Three national figures (Hoover, Taft, Kennedy) who have every bit as much standing as any of the members of the Committee in question, and who know infinitely more about the questions involved than most of them, have in effect indicted Mr. Truman for his foreign policy and his lack of an adequate defense plan. All his little helpers, and Mr. Truman himself, have undertaken to answer. None of them has succeeded. That's where the Committee of the Present Danger come in—it is to shut off discussion which thus far has been running heavily to the detriment of President Truman.

Gen. Adler, with his newspaper, is in a position to render supremely important service to the American people.

Let him answer some questions, through his staff—rather than join any more movements to suppress the answers!

His is the newspaper which broke the "Clear it with Sidney" story at the Democratic Convention back in 1944. How about some similar journalistic enterprise today?

For one thing, the nation has seethed with speculation on whether so much as one military man approved the President's order sending foot soldiers into Korea last summer. Maybe the Times can find the answer.

For another, instead of glossing matters over, and treating paper armies as though they could be put into the field to fight, why not turn the Times' splendid European staff loose on a factual survey of the military potential there—including the all-important matter of morale.

Still a third matter—two prominent Americans, John Foster Dulles and Harold Stassen, have come before the public with statements to the effect that Russia is seething with unrest and about to blow up in Stalin's face. If this is true, perhaps we are needlessly alarmed, and do not need any of the hysterical rearming now under way.

Can the Times find out? Its reportorial facilities certainly ought to be as good as those of the two gentlemen named. Or, if the Times is unable to get into and out of Russia, over, around or under the Iron Curtain—then perhaps it could interrogate the two men in question and trace back the sources of their information, so that the American people can judge for themselves whether it is trustworthy.

Our national situation is desperate. Whether or not we are on the threshold of a Russian War, certainly we are on the verge of signing away the freedom of the American people and the integrity of the American dollar. The decision is much too profoundly important for the people to be denied any available information or arguments concerning the need for these steps, and the nature of the alternatives.

If there's anything we don't need at this juncture, it is a Committee of Thyssens to lead us over the cliff.

If there is any one thing which no newspaper publisher should do during this crisis, it is to join anything which imposes either automatic or involuntary censorship upon his news columns.

For newspapermen of today, freedom of the press is more than a right, franchise or privilege—it is a patriotic duty!

Several Young Children Can Keep the House in Turmoil

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

ANY mother who has two, three or four little children all under six or seven has no bed of roses. Yet if she can endure the strain and has a husband who shares the care of these youngsters with her, these children may have a richness of family experience not to be had by many other children. How wonderful the home education of these children by one another. See, too, how young these parents will be when their children are in their teens; the whole family young together!

Yesterday I described a family of four little children, the eldest under six and no twins, with calm and companionable parents, with whom I had spent a week end. I observed how little confusion there was, how happily and effectively these little children were managed and some of the apparent reasons, especially the good balance of love and restraint.

I hear from a good many mothers of several little children close in ages, who are not managed so happily. Yet the parents of these children have tried no doubt just as hard to succeed as have the parents I described yesterday. A young mother, living in a home with ample room, play space and playthings, writes about her little children five, four and two: "Our house is a constant turmoil and confusion. I am wondering if everyone who has children close together goes through the same thing. If our children are unusually noisy and destructive. Are there enough people in our predicament that you could write an article on handling children as wild as March hares."

Then she cites a number of problems one might expect to arise in any home of so many little children close in ages, giving evidence that she and her husband have been trying very hard to bring up these children well and happily.

I trust that if she reads my column of yesterday she does not grow discouraged with herself and family in comparison, or condemn herself or try to do as well all at once as the parents I described. I assured her she must expect considerable confusion and turmoil. I also tried to show her that she and her husband needed to get those youngsters under control, centering on a few undesirable acts in each child she easily could check personally and to train him in the meaning of No concerning these acts, abating this restraint with abundant affection and trying to make sure that each child felt not only loved and wanted in the family but also loved and wanted as much as each other child. I asked her to study my bulletins (which I enclosed) "How Teach Child Meaning of No," "Teaching Child Care of Property," "Stubbornness" and "Jealousy" (to be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this paper).

I tried to help her see that she must first establish control before she can hope to give them ample love, since they constantly vexed her and couldn't get the love they deserved otherwise.

I explained to her that if she studied these bulletins and my daily column she would discover that she soon could, if she were self-controlled and consistent and never repeated No or said it in a shrill loud voice, soon abandon spanking and use instead chair-sitting for restraint, assigning the youngster, when necessary, to sit in a certain place where she could see him for a definite period (10 minutes for the youngster two, 15 minutes for the child four, and 20 minutes for the child five). Also I urged that she try to show each one lots of affection, praise him for good deeds, celebrate his successes, and read a great deal to all of them.

to outflank and envelop the Second Division holding a salient which extends north to within two miles south of Wonsu, gateway to a rail-highway web spread over South Korea's heart.

Already, infiltrating elements of the Red flanking column had slipped behind UN positions and erected roadblocks on a lateral highway between Chungju and Tanyang, 25 miles south and 38 southeast of Wonsu.

Tanyang is 73 air miles south of Parallel 38 and Chungju lies 72 miles below that artificial dividing line between North and South Korea.

UN vehicles moving along the 27-mile road stretching west-northwest from Tanyang to Chungju were fired on. Allied patrols probing the strength of the enemy roadblocks reported the Reds had mined the highway. One patrol clashed with a 50-man Communist group 12 miles east of Chungju.

A Friday afternoon front dispatch quoted Eighth Army sources as saying the North Korean 19th Rifle Division moved into positions east and southeast of Chechon, 21 miles southeast of Wonsu and 15 northwest of Tanyang. The North Korean Second Division reportedly deployed immediately to the north.

The field dispatch cited civilian reports that one group of 1,000 Red soldiers was observed moving into the area just northeast of Tanyang. In this district, UN troops encountered and fought a 200-man Communist group Thursday.

Allied airmen reported shooting another force of 1,200 Reds moving south and east from an area 19 miles east of Chechon toward the upper Han river which flows southwest, passing Tanyang on the north. The Han then bends northwestward to flow through the southern outskirts of Seoul, Communist-occupied Korean national capital.

Wonsu, Chungju, Chechon and Tanyang are important cogs in a rail-highway system that radiates south, southwest and southeast to all sections of South Korea.

In the Wonsu sector, an Eighth Army briefing officer said shortly before noon Friday, "the enemy continued to build up" while the Second Division's American, French and Dutch troops "stabilized their positions."

Urges Students To Maintain Normal Academic Standards

STATE COLLEGE, Jan. 12 — In a letter to students at the Pennsylvania State College, President Milton S. Eisenhower today urged the students to maintain normal academic standards in the face of uncertainties as to their future.

"Every educator and every government official I have talked with agrees that the best contribution each of us can make at the moment is to carry on with his regular responsibilities until through legislation or other action, he is notified to do otherwise," Dr. Eisenhower wrote.

"Everyone is deeply worried about the future. Values which yesterday seemed important, suddenly seem to sink to insignificance. But the values which have hitherto been important are the very ones we seek to protect through the building of military as well as economic, social, and moral strength.

"A constant flow of educated men and women into our whole American fabric is essential to the maintenance of our true strength. Each student is therefore engaged in an essential national enterprise. I urge each of you not to succumb to the uncertainties of our time and thus permit the quality of your work in college to suffer. Do the very best work you can right up to the moment that you, personally, learn your services are more essential elsewhere."

Dr. Eisenhower also told the students that "tensions which now cause this nation to arm will most likely be with us for many years. The problem is not one of getting a nasty job done in a hurry and then returning to a normal situation."

"This makes it imperative," Dr. Eisenhower said, "that the maximum number of capable young people achieve as much education and training as they can before they serve in the armed forces."

It was reported by Eugene Stutz, highways chairman, that he had met with state highway representatives and that the roads of the township are being classified. He said that he had made a tour of the roads and found several "blow-ups." These have been repaired. He said that the weather was delaying further work at this time.

Walter Bowker discussed health matters and reported that he had some things under consideration for the future.

There was an informal discussion by the commissioners, spectators, and Mr. Monroe, concerning the status of the court case concerning the annexation to Bristol of the property of the 3M Company. The question of Bristol Borough adopting an ordinance annexing the borough property in the township, on which the borough water field is located, was argued. The question of the possibility or probability of Bristol Borough, at some future date, devoting this ground to commercial purposes was talked about.

The next meeting of the commissioners will be held in the regular meeting place, Edgely fire station, on Tuesday, February 6th.

NEW! AMERICAN BEAUTY DESIGN
Brilliant new styling . . . featuring entirely new grille, parking lights, fender moldings and rear-end design . . . imparting that longer, lower, wider big-car look which sets Chevrolet above and apart from all other motor cars in its field.

New Plymouth Beautifully Styled

There are beautiful new lines in the new 1951 Plymouth cars. A new grille, redesigned front fenders and hood, and a wider windshield provide an appearance of massiveness combined with smart streamlining. The cars feature unprecedented roadability and riding qualities, and numerous mechanical improvements.

New Plymouth Goes On Display Tomorrow

Spectacular engineering advancements which produce driving and riding ease heretofore unknown in automobiles of any price class, feature the new line of Plymouth cars. Combining smart new body lines with matchless interior luxury, the 1951 Plymouth will go on display here and throughout the United States tomorrow, Bristol Plymouth sales announced today.

Designers have given the Plymouth a striking new silhouette, and interior refinements are innovations in the lowest price field. The styling improvements retain traditional roominess of the cars. The new Plymouths may be seen at Green & Lawrence's, William J. Strobel's and Percy G. Ord's show rooms. Easier to drive and more comfortable, the new cars have greater safety, more safety features and wider ranges of vision than ever before. Engineers say the new "Safety-Flow ride" takes the bounce and all-out of bumps. A new application of hydraulic flow control in the shock absorbers provides a more gradual change of resistance during spring deflections and thus softer ride when driving on average roads. It also exerts extra resistance on rough roads to a degree where driver and passengers are almost completely freed of the discomfort of being jolted around. The "Safety-Flow ride" is one of the greatest contributions to living comfort and safety in recent years, according to D. S. Edens, president of Plymouth Motor Corp.

"The new Plymouth gives you adaptability never before offered in a car," he said. "There is no necessity for steering wheel fatigue to control the car on difficult roads. The driver is no longer required to focus full attention on the condition of the road. He may be more watchful of oncoming traffic, pedestrians, curves, crossroads and other potential hazards."

Edens called the new development a major step toward restful driving. More confidence is gained by driving or riding in a new Plymouth with the "Safety-Flow ride," and as a result there is less driver and passenger fatigue, he said.

The lines of the new Plymouth have been beautified. An appearance of massiveness combined with art streamlining is induced by built-in by-pass cooling system permitting water circulation and resulting in more uniform temperature throughout the engine during the warm-up period. The new system consists of a passage in the cylinder head and block providing direct access to the water pump, and a choke-type thermostat to regulate coolant flow to the radiator.

The generator output has been raised to 45 amperes, an increase of five amperes, providing greater electrical capacity for the operation of car accessories. The new hand brake "T" control handle is more accessible, and, as on former models, it operates independently of the foot brake as an added safety measure.

In the convertible club coupe, the spare tire is mounted vertically as in other coupe and sedan models, rather than on the trunk floor.

The new Plymouth interiors offer the finest selection of upholstery and trim and the most harmonious color schemes in the company's history. The colors which have been chosen provide throughout the interior a pleasing combination of shades in harmony with the car's exterior color. Designers say the interior is an unparalleled achievement in combining practicality with luxury. Always noted for spaciousness, Plymouth now has even more head room and more room to stretch out in comfort in the rear seat.

To go with the high quality of the upholstery, there is a handsome new instrument panel which features a more convenient grouping of controls, newly shaped instruments and improved coloring and lettering for easier checking while driving.

The wide, deep chair-height seats, the ease of entrance and exit, and all the other traditional Plymouth features for driver and passenger comfort have been retained.

There are nine body-types in the new Plymouth line; the Concord series includes a two-door sedan and a three-passenger coupe as well as the two all-metal utility models, the Suburban and the Savoy; the Cambridge series has a four-door sedan and a club coupe; and the Cranbrook series includes a four-door sedan, a club coupe, and a convertible club coupe.

The Suburban and the Savoy, with their smart, distinctive lines are all-purpose vehicles. They have the beauty and comfort of a sedan, and by simply lowering the rear seat flush with the floor they become sturdy cargo carriers for farmers, salesmen, sportsmen, tourists and others who require large cargo capacity. The Savoy, called the "country-club companion" of the Suburban, provides a greater variety of luxurious interior appointments and more exterior refinements to enhance the car's striking appearance.

Among the "high-priced car" features which are retained are six-cylinder, 97-horsepower engine with a 7 to 1 compression ratio, the combination ignition and starter switch, automatic electric choke, super-cushion tires, safe-guard hydraulic brakes, and safety-rim wheels.

Six Bucks County Residents Attend Luncheon at Harrisburg

Six residents of Bucks county were among the 126 agricultural leaders, Master Farmers, their wives and friends who attended the Master Farmers luncheon meeting at Harrisburg, Tuesday. The meeting, held at the Penn Harris Hotel, was an annual Farm Show Week feature.

The luncheon guests from this area were Mr. and Mrs. Isaac S. Gross, Plumsteadville; Raymond C. Gross, son, and wife, also of Plumsteadville; Lester G. Gross, son, of Dublin; and William F. Greenwalt, county agent, Bucks county.

Six Pennsylvania farmers were presented with gold medals in recognition of their achievements in agriculture and citizenship. They were Alexander Claypoole, Worthington, R. D. No. 1, Armstrong county; John Norman Griffith, Ebensburg, R. D. No. 2, Cambria county; Isaac S. Gross, Plumsteadville, Bucks county; Irvin Macafee, Milan, Bradford county; John H. Risser, Bainbridge, R. D. No. 1, Lancaster county; and Edwin B. Wallis, Liverpool, R. D. No. 1, Perry county.

The farmers were chosen by a Board of Judges consisting of Miles Horst, State Secretary of Agriculture; Dr. Lyman E. Jackson, Dean of the School of Agriculture of the Pennsylvania State College; and Dr. S. W. Fletcher, former Dean of that institution. The judges made their selections after the farms had been inspected by members of the editorial staff of Pennsylvania Farmer.

County agents of the Master Farmers' home counties gave five minute talks, describing the farm operations of the honored farmers. They were S. B. Shenk, Armstrong county; H. C. McWilliams, Cambria county; William G. Greenwalt, Bucks county; P. N. Reber, Bradford county; M. M. Smith, Lancaster county; and L. F. Rethrick, Perry county. Their talks were illustrated by color slides taken on the farms by a staff member of Pennsylvania Farmer, sponsors of the Master Farmer movement in Pennsylvania.

Mason C. Gilpin, editor of the publication, presided. He presented the medals to the new Master Farmers.

Other features of the program consisted of a welcoming speech by E. S. O'Mara, president of the Master Farmers Association, and an address entitled "Making Good Our Heritage" by Dr. Ralph W. Schlosier of Elizabethtown College.

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

By JOE ELBERSON

Meeting... the January meeting of the Edgely Rod & Gun Club will be held next Monday, the 15th, at 8 P. M. in the meeting room of the Edgely Community Hall. It is the meeting at which officers for the current year are usually elected, and I'm certain president Roy Stackhouse wants a good turnout for the meeting.

Meeting and shoot... the Newportville Rod & Gun Club will conduct its January meeting this Sunday, the 14th, at the Clubhouse, located at Haunted Lane, Edgington. The meeting will get underway at 12 noon, and will be followed by a 16-yard bluecock practice shoot over the club's traps.

1951 hunting seasons... nimrods who must arrange their hunting vacation periods early will welcome this information on the opening dates of Pennsylvania's 1951 hunting seasons, which were decided at the Game Commission's January 4 meeting at Harrisburg.

The small game season was tentatively set for the full month of November, subject to change only if the winter wildlife census should prove that winter and natural hazards have taken a serious toll of what is now considered adequate seed stock.

The 1951 bear season will open on November 19. The deer season comes in this year on Monday, December 3. Details of seasons and bag limits for various kinds of game will be decided at the July meeting of the Commission.

The Pennsylvania Game Commission has returned the red fox to the bounty list. Effective June 1 this year a $100 bounty will be paid on red foxes as well as on grays.

In recent years, very few goshawks have been offered for bounty and their effect on Pennsylvania wildlife is presently considered negligible. Therefore, beginning June 1, the payment of bounty on these predaceous birds will be discontinued.

Starting then, the bounty payment on any great horned owl, either adult or fledgling, will be $500, and the Commission will continue to pay a dollar bounty on each weasel.

1950 stocking figures... a total of 61,425 fish were placed in the public streams and ponds of Bucks County by the Pennsylvania Fish Commission during 1950, according to figures just released by State Fish Warden, Harry Z. Cole. This compares with a total of 59,609 in 1949. Of the County total 15,965 were placed in streams in the Bristol area, as compared to 15,000 for 1949. Silver Lake received the major portion of the local stocking program with a total of 10,165 fish, as compared to 9,900 for 1949. Maple Beach received 1600 fish last year and 2100 in 1949. The Canal (from Bristol to New Hope) was stocked with 4200 last year and 3000 in 1949.

The breakdown and species by stream for the county was as follows: Neshaun Creek: 4000 catfish, 2700 bass, 2000 sunfish and 4000 suckers; Delaware Canal: 1000 catfish, 1500 yellow perch, 1000 sunfish and 700 bass; Unami Creek: 2500 catfish, 1000 bass and 1000 sunfish; Maple Beach: 600 catfish, 500 yellow perch and 500 sunfish; N. E. Branch of the Perkiomen: 1700 bass, 700 catfish and 800 sunfish; Little Neshaun Creek: 500 catfish, 800 bass and 400 sunfish; Toltickon Creek: 1500 catfish, 3500 bass and 1000 sunfish; Pine Creek: 500 catfish and 400 sunfish; Cook's Creek: 5000 brook trout and 1750 rainbow trout; Three-Mile Run: 300 catfish and 300 sunfish; Silver Lake: 2000 catfish, 3000 sunfish, 2500 bass, 600 yellow perch and 65 suckers; Lake Warren: 1700 catfish, 2200 bass, 1500 yellow perch and 500 sunfish; Deep Run: 300 catfish and 200 sunfish; Mill Creek: 1900 brook trout, Piddock Creek: 300 catfish and 300 sunfish.

VAN LENTEN LEAVES SHORTLY FOR WEST COAST; THEN JAPAN

Sudden overseas orders on "Bill"

VanLenten results in the Fort Monmouth, N. J., basketball team losing its coach at mid-season. The 28-year-old Army captain from Bristol is leaving shortly for the West Coast and then to his new assignment in Japan.

Appointed to take over the immediate reins of the Signaler coaching job is Arnie Melloy, high-scoring forward and three year court veteran at Fort Monmouth. Melloy, also 28, who hails from Jamaica, N. Y., will act in the dual role of player-coach, and is assuming his new duties immediately.

The loss of VanLenten also means assignment of a new athletic officer for the Post. The Army athlete arrived at Fort Monmouth in June 1948 assigned to Special Services Supply and custodian of the Central Post Fund. He was athletic officer for the major portion of his duties here at the Signal Corps installation.

In addition to his assigned duties, VanLenten was an active athlete in three sports. He coached Signaler football teams in 1948 and '49, the former as a player-coach, and won the First Army grid conference in 1949. In basketball he played on the 1948-49 First Army championship team. Playing a suicide schedule this season the Bristol product has produced ten victories in nineteen games.

The third sport VanLenten played a prominent role was in baseball. As a Signaler pitcher he was one of the mainstays of the mound staff for three seasons, of which Fort Monmouth won two First Army playoffs. He pitched the decisive victory in the '48 series and posted a 10-1 record last year.

The newly appointed basketball coach is a familiar figure to Fort Monmouth. Melloy, in two previous court campaigns, scored 410 and 512 points, respectively. The experienced and clever court star sparked the Signalers to First Army titles and was voted the "most valuable player" award in last year's tourney. Also, the Jamaica veteran is the first Monmouth player to tally one thousand points. In nineteen games to date the Army Sergeant has registered 248 points.

Melloy was the unanimous choice of the players as the new coach. At a special player meeting it was also decided to abolish the naming of a team captain, with Melloy to be in complete charge. In previous games a court leader was named prior to each contest.

VanLenten's orders will have him on the West Coast by the end of this month. He served overseas in the past war, and was wounded in Europe and returned to the states. On recovery, he saw duty for two and one-half years in Puerto Rico prior to arrival at Fort Monmouth.
